THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR.

During the past year, Wisconsin has been favored with abundant harvests, and the people have increased and our resources have developed. Prosperity has rewarded every commendable effort made for our advancement, and good health has prevailed throughout the state. In accordance with the time-honored custom which annually sets apart a day for rendering thanks to Almighty God for the dispensation of His kind Providence, and for the peace and happiness He has vouchsafed our people, and in conformity with the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, LUTHERUS B. RUSK, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do designate Thursday, November 27th instant, as a day of Thanksgiving and praise, and recommend that all public and private businesses be suspended on that day, and that the people render thanks to the Supreme Ruler for the many blessings they have enjoyed.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused this Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed.

Done at the city of Madison, this 24th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

LUTHERUS B. RUSK, Governor.

J. M. RUSK, Secretary of State.

Eliza Wright, the well known abolitionist of years ago, died at Medford, Mass., Sunday, aged 81. He had been connected with many newspapers and was a distinguished author.

The Forty-ninth congress which meets one week from next Monday, will stand as follows: Senate—republicans, 42; democrats, 34. House—democrats, 183; republicans, 140; green-back-democrat, 1; green-back-republican, 1.

The annual report of the United States commissioner of internal revenue, for the fiscal year ending June 30th, shows a falling off of nearly $10,000,000 in the receipts from internal revenue taxes, as compared with the preceding fiscal year.

Dr. President Arthur inspected the work on Liberty Island (formerly Bedloe's Island) in New York harbor, the other day. He found the Bartholdi pedestal built to 126 feet from its foundation, with three tiers more courses, twenty-six feet, to be laid.

The richest man to the world is not a New Yorker, as every loyal American has been wont to believe, but a pig-fattened Chinaman. His name is Han Lee, and he is a banker of Canton. He pays taxes on an estate of $450,000,000, and his aggregate wealth is stated at $1,000,000,000.

The Railroad Gazette of the 20th reports a total of 51 miles of new track on eight lines, making 2,364 miles thus far reported for the current year. The new track reported to the corresponding date for five years has been: 1884, 3,353 miles; 1883, 3,000 miles; 1882, 3,171; 1881, 3,649; 1880, 5,342.

M. Bartholdi, while in Washington last week, tried to see the president on two occasions. He was denied admission on Thursday and was told to call the next day. He called next day, but arrived after the public reception was over. The doorkeeper refused to take his card to the president, and he returned to New York.

Contradictory reports come from Congressman Rusk's bedside. The Milwaukee correspondent describes him as getting along so well that he confidently hopes to be able to take his seat at the opening of congress. But from the following special from Milwaukee, in the Chicago Evening Journal, it is evident that others hold a contrary opinion:

A gentleman from Manitowish says that there is little change in Congressman Rusk's condition. He is slowly losing strength, and his health is a matter of only a short time. His room is constantly filled with people, in fact, the doctors say he would have been dead long ago had it not been for his great will power and mental strength.

The New York Tribune publishes an interesting bit of political history to the effect that "during late years, the presidential campaign in that state, Smith M. Weed, of Plattburgh, an iron manufacturer and democratic protectionist, went to the principal manufacturers in the state and ascertained that Mr. Cleveland, if elected president, would not permit the industries now subsidized by tariff to be disturbed, and assuring them that they would be perfectly safe to keep out of the contest. Many manufacturers took Mr. Weed's word and withheld support from the Republican ticket. They are now waiting rather anxiously to see if Mr. Weed knew what he was talking about."

The other day, the New York Herald which has supported every democratic candidate for president from James K. Polk to Grover Cleveland, made this editorial note in regard to the cost of running the government:

The least democratic president before Mr. Cleveland was chosen in 1861, when the United States contained about 28,000,000 people, about 55,000,000 last year. We have been looking over a table of annual taxes and expenditures covering the period from 1853 to 1884, and get down here some comparisons between the first year of the last democratic administration and the last year of the last republicanism. In 1856 the total "net revenue" of the federal government amounted in round figures to $74,000,000; in 1884-5 to $243,000,000. In 1856 the people paid $2.63 per head for the support of the government; in 1884-5 they paid $3.87 per head. But excluding in each case, as is necessary, the payments for pensions and interest on the debt (caused by the southern democratic rebellion) which together amounted to $3,250,000 in 1856 and to $207,500,000 in 1884-5, it results that the "net expenditures" necessitated taxes to the amount of $2.88 per head in 1856-7 and $2.95 in 1884-5.

We are glad that the Herald, which has fought so many campaigns for the democracy, had the courage to print the foregoing paragraph. It is a good campaign document for the republican party. Not counting the additional taxation caused by the southern democratic rebellion, President Arthur's administration did not cost as much as Buchanan's by 20 per cent.

"THE BLOODY SHIRT"

This morning's Record under the caption of "A glimpse at the possible," naps a Janesville action on the part of the democratic party throughout the nation, and deems it of vital importance that the house of representatives continue to hold a democratic majority, and act in harmony with the administration. In referring to the recent elections in New York and Virginia the following assertion is made:

"The late elections have sounded the funeral knell of the 'bloody shirt.' A few crack-brained enthusiasts and bull-headed orators will continue to flaunt the tattered garment, and to perspire over the repetition of flights of their own demented fancy, which, it will please them to term 'Southern Outrages,' but the battle hymn of the republicans in the next campaign, will not be that well worn song, so long and so vociferously sung by John Sherman, John A. Logan and others:

"In my hand no truth I bring, Simply to the shirt I cling."

THE BALKAN WAR.

RUMORS IN LONDON THAT A CRISIS HAS BEEN REACHED.

The Servians Evacuate All Their Strong Positions—The Bombardment of Widin—Fighting in Buda-Pesth—Foreign Notes.

New York, Nov. 24.—A London telegram to The Sun says: There was a rumor in London Monday night that a revolution had broken out at Belgrade, and already overthrown the government of King Milan. The Servian minister at London denied that there was any truth in the rumor, but indirectly intimated that the Servians are willing to overthrow the government if certain conditions are met.

On the subject of peace the minister said: "Belgrade was the aggressor in this quarrel, and therefore she must be made to pay. The only peace which Servia can accept will be the cessation of enough Bulgarian territory to be equivalent to an indemnity for the expenditure of blood and treasure into which Servia has been forced in defense of her borders."

It is now considered quite possible that the diplomats at Constantinople will arrange for a small cession of territory to Servia, which would be sufficient to keep King Milan on his throne, and it would be regarded as a punishment of the Bulgarians and their unauthorized annexation of Eastern Roumelia. As far as can be judged from the conflicting telegrams the situation at the seat of war is as follows: Prince Alexander has held at bay the Morava and Sava and Danube divisions, which were advancing via Radomir, and prevented them from joining the Drina and Danube divisions. He has driven the latter back from Dragomir. The Marova and Sava divisions still hold their positions, and are probably commanded by King Milan. The people of Belgrade are anxious as to how the Servians will escape defeat. The Servian reverses are attributed to blunders made by favorites of King Milan who are in command.

THE WRECKED IBERIA.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The steamer Iberia, which went ashore Saturday in Dunmore bay, near Cork, has broken up, and her cargo is drifting. A boat containing fourteen men belonging to the steamer was missing, but has arrived at Crookhaven. The cargo which composed part of the Iberia's cargo was saved.

Means the Gobbler of Burmah.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Four deputy commissioners and four assistant commissioners have been appointed by the India government to perfect British and Indian interests in Burmah. The establishment of this form of provisional government is considered tantamount to the annexation of Burmah to India.

English Elections Exciting Much Interest.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The greatest personal interest of the public is directed to the contest at Birmingham between Bright and Lord Randolph Churchill. The duchess of Marlborough and Lady Churchill, who is a daughter of Lord Leinster, are at Birmingham, at the head of 300 prima dames, have been making a house-to-house canvass on behalf of Lord Randolph. Each lady is responsible for a district, and returns the number of promised voters to the central ladies' committee. The duchess and Lady Churchill, during their progress through the streets, are greeted by cheers from the Radicals. Lady Churchill says she has visited the poorest houses in Birmingham, and with one exception has been received with the greatest courtesy and politeness. She addressed workmen in the principal factories. Lord Randolph is also a candidate for Piddington, where he is certain to be successful. Bright, in his speeches, refers humorously to the "prime rose campaign."

Conservative Majority Predicted.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Lord Salisbury, at the Speaker's club, Monday night, said that a Conservative majority in the next parliament was already assured. He, however, warned the Tories against being over-confident. The premier was in a particularly happy mood, and jokingly alluded to Mr. Parnell's letter with a man who falls between two stools.

Will Greece Please Explain.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 24.—The ports have not a note to the Greek government demanding an explanation of the warlike preparations which Greece has been making for some time past.

A Big Drop in Oil.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 24.—No such scene as that of Monday was witnessed in oil circles since the occasion of the opening of the famous Cherry Grove field. The market opened at 90 cents, and in less than half an hour was the heavy selling of Craig & Lowry declined to 84 cents, during which the wildest excitement prevailed. Just before the close it further declined to 81 cents, at which point Craig turned buyer and his deals alone prevented a disastrous drop into the 80s. No failures were announced, but it is positively known that the sums of the highest firms here are badly crippled, and it is expected that some of them will be lumbered among the lay-downs.
